Perspectives for Wetland Archaeology, surveys and underwater exploration in the Dnieper River, Ukraine

The presentation demonstrates the modern state of the arts and perspectives of archaeological research in Ukrainian wetlands and moors, in the Dnieper River and its water system. Surveys and exploration in the Dnieper valley show a high concentration of archaeological sites of various epochs from the Paleolithic to the Bronze Age in Kiev, Chernigov and Cherkassy regions along the Dnieper River; this evidence gives a strong reason for discovering and investigating Ukrainian wetland sites and interesting underwater findings.
